

LET'S TALK ABOUT FAMOUS PEOPLE!

ODI 5

Teacher: Miss Bahar

What do people get famous for?

Make a list of the most common reasons why people get famous.

What kind of people can become famous?

- Singers
- Actors
- Social media celebrities / Influencers
- Sports people
- TV presenters
- Business people
- Politicians
- Scientists
- Writers

We also call a famous person
“Celebrity”

Here are some useful adjectives to describe the kind of people that can become famous.

- Ambitious : someone who has strong wish to achieve or get something
- hard-working: someone who's always doing a lot of work
- Persistent, consistent: someone who never stops trying
- Talented, skillful: someone who's very good at something
- Energetic, positive: a person who has lots of good energy to do something.
- Caring, loving: A caring person is kind and gives support to others

Word families:

- Fame (n.)
- Famous (adj.)
- A celebrity (person)

Examples:

- He likes fame.
- She craves fame =to really want it
- Fame has changed him*

Some useful sentences:

This can be used to say why someone is famous:

- He is famous FOR BEING a creative person.

When someone is extremely famous in a special field, they are an icon:

- Taylor swift is a music icon!

Tell us about a famous person you would like to meet.

A famous person I would like to meet is Taylor Swift. She is a very popular singer and songwriter. I love her music because her songs tell great stories and have beautiful melodies. Taylor Swift is also very kind and generous. She helps many people and supports different charities.

I would like to meet Taylor Swift because she is very talented and inspiring. If I could talk to her, I would ask her about how she writes her songs and where she gets her ideas. I think it would be amazing to learn from someone who has achieved so much in her life. Meeting Taylor Swift would be a dream come true for me!

Do you think we should protect famous people's privacy?

- Yes, I think we should protect famous people's privacy. Even though they are well-known, they are still regular people who need their own space and time to relax. Just like everyone else, they deserve to have private moments with their family and friends without being disturbed.
- If we respect their privacy, they can have a normal life when they are not working. This is important because always being in the spotlight can be very stressful. Everyone needs a break sometimes, even famous people. By giving them privacy, we show that we care about their well-being.

Would you like to be a celebrity? Why?

- No, I don't think I would like to be a celebrity. Celebrities have very busy lives, and they don't have much privacy. People are always watching them and taking pictures. It can be very stressful.
- I prefer having a normal life where I can go anywhere without being recognized. I also think it's important to have time for myself and my family without being in the spotlight all the time.
- So, while being a celebrity might seem exciting, I think I would be happier living a more private and peaceful life.
